Been seeing pink elephants in Belle Glade? You better had! A dozen or more... perhaps they're red and white plaid... proclaim SCHOOLS SLOW signs at strategic places, while incidentally reminding us of certain trading stamps. Ingenious advertising!

Automation is lightning the work load for the Paul Davidson's in their Cabin cleaning plant. They have recently installed a completely automatic cleaning machine, with push buttons replacing former effort. The machine requires less floor space than the old type machinery, lending room for further mechanical additions which are planned for the near future, the owner reports.

Scott Kelly, Democratic candidate for Governor in this year's primary election was visitor in Belle Glade Wednesday morning and had breakfast here. He was accompanied by Elmer Rounds, his campaign director, and Charles C. Cooper, another member of his staff.

Kelly stated the purpose of the visit was to renew acquaintances and to thank his many friends for their support in the last election. He also stated he was working to keep the Scott Kelly "Go Team" together.

Asked if he planned to run for Governor two years from now, he said it was too far in advance for him to consider at this time, but he was keeping his organization together "just in case" he did decide to run.

"One thing for sure," said Kelly, something will have to be done about the road situation in the Glades area and if I am ever in a position to accomplish anything or help in this matter, I will see to it that the roads of this area are improved.

Things were quiet for the Glades area when the school pagers are entitled to good safe roads and I think they should have them.

The party left Belle Glade after a three hour stay for other points in the Glades.

Speakers Urge Lions To Re-register To Vote In Bond Issue

Belle Glade Lions heard discussion on the School Bond issue and the importance of freeholders re-registering to vote, when four Belle Glade teachers talked to the group at their Wednesday luncheon meeting.

The importance to the taxpayer of re-registering was pointed out by Principal Pellon Morris.

Herman Close outlined the urgent need and purpose of the bond issue.

Elementary Principal Carl Crawford said the urgent need for Glades schools exceeds that of many other areas in the county, and that a considerable amount of the money would be spent locally.

Mrs. Mable Lutz, principal of Gove Elementary School, said that this new school, when in operation, would be all in inadequate to meet the needs of Belle Glade's growing population. She estimated that in a short time more class rooms will have to be built to handle the elementary grade increase.

All four speakers urged the Lions to be sure to register AND TO VOTE.

"We are trying to tell you how to vote," Principal Morris said, "but we do urge you to vote."

Mrs. Towell and the children were accompanied to Illinois by relatives Mr. and Mrs. Bill Glenn from Sanford, Florida.

How to Mix Chemicals

When mixing chemicals, the label gives most necessary information. Sometimes it's a little tricky to figure out exactly how much water and chemicals to apply per acre. It isn't always possible to use exactly the amount of water per acre as the label says. But it's always necessary to apply exactly as much active chemical ingredient per acre as called for.

Don't let this problem be solved. Here's how. First, it's necessary to find out how much water a sprayer is delivering per acre. Then use the following formula to find how much chemical to be used in your sprayer tank.

Number of acres to be treated x gallons of water per acre = total gallons of water needed

Example: You have a sprayer with a 50-gallon tank that sprays 10 g.p.a. (the same as 10 gal. per acre). You want to control grasshoppers on ground, and the recommendation is for 0.25 pounds of actual chemical per acre. Use the chemical you have in your sprayer tank.

If you recommend call for 1/4 lb. per 100 g.p.a. (the same as 1/4 lb. per 100 gallons), use 1/4 lb. per acre per gallon of water. If the recommendation is for 1/2 lb. per 100 gallons, use 1/2 lb. per acre per gallon of water, or 1/2 lb. per 100 gallons of water.

Handy Liquid Equivalents:
1 level teaspoon = 1 level tablespoon

1 level cup = 1 level quart

"... The Right And Privilege Of The Majority To Acknowledge God Is At Least Equal To The Right And Privilege Of The Minority To Deny Him."

By Farris Bryant Governor of Florida

There are certain propositions to which I am committed — propositions to which, it seems to me, all Americans must be committed — propositions which are implicit in our national history and existence — in our national character.

One of these propositions is "justice." Another is "the right of the majority to acknowledge God."

What shall we conclude about the Supreme Court of the United States which, in Zorach v. Clauson, 343 US 306, 113-114, affirmed that "We are a religious people whose institutions presuppose a Supreme Being."

How can children understand these things without an acknowledgment of God? To teach the history of America, without first acknowledging the existence of God, would be like teaching mathematics, without first agreeing that 2 plus 2 equals 4.

The keystone in the great arch of our liberties which has distinguished this nation from all others is the concept of justice under God, because justice without God would be like freedom without choice, or muscle without mind.

It is said that the place for religious and moral training is in the home and church. I agree! But when American children must go to school. In Florida attendance is required by law. If it were not so, still they must go to participate, or even to survive, in America. By what right can they be required by the federal government, or any government, to live most of their waking hours during most of their youth in an environment from which an acknowledgment of God is artificially restricted?

School consumes most of a child's time and energies. By

J & L Engineering Expands Services

The officials of J. & L. Engineering Company, Inc., of Jeanerette, Louisiana, and Honolulu Iron Works of Hawaii, announce that under a stock exchange program the two companies have become affiliated.

J. & L. Engineering Company, Inc., has heretofore specialized in the manufacture of sugar cane harvesting equipment and allied products, while governmental action we have deprived them of the time and opportunity to give and receive religious and moral guidance in the home. Justice demands that the same government which, by law, takes the child from the religious home and places him in a regulated environment has a duty to provide for him an opportunity to receive the moral and religious guidance he has been deprived of by his compulsory attendance.

How can we say, as has been done, that irreparable injury will be done to the children of one race if they are segregated in the public schools from another race, and yet conclude that good will result when children of all races are segregated from God?

Surely those parents who have voiced opposition to this proposed Amendment on the ground that even token recognition of God is offensive to them and to their children understand the grievance of those religious parents who earnestly desire that their children receive religious nourishment and are deprived of that opportunity. I would not suggest that any child be compelled to participate in any religious exercises. I do suggest that the right and privilege of the majority to acknowledge God is at least equal to the right and privilege of the minority to deny him.

Proposed plans for the center were drawn by E. Abraham Associates of Miami, who also designed the apartment building.

The affiliation of the two companies will bring to Iberia Parish one of the largest permanent industries in the parish. Officials of both companies expressed confidence that when expansion plans, which will be immediately undertaken, are completed, J. & L. Engineering Company, Inc., will be in a position to extend and improve its service to the sugar cane farmers and processors of this area and devote more attention to the development and improvement of mechanization on the sugar farm.

All corporation officers, directors and personnel of J. & L. Engineering Company, Inc., will continue with the company and will serve as the nucleus around which expansion plans are expected to be made.

Vero And Palm Beach Teams Unbeaten As Conference Games Continue Friday

Vero Beach and Palm Beach, Terry Mosley of McCarly and two unbeaten teams with break- Harold Wise, Lake Worth, away running threats go at it in West Palm Beach Friday night in the feature of a full five-game Suncoast Conference football schedule.

Each added its second victory last Friday, Vero Beach edging Pahokee 13-12 and Palm Beach outlasting Riviera Beach 7-0. The week before, Vero topped Belle Glade 33-21 and Palm Beach whipped Lake Worth 21-7.

Other games on Friday's schedule are Lake Worth at Belle Glade, Forest Hill at Pahokee, Riviera Beach at Fort Pierce and Stuart at Delray Beach. Forest Hill has also won two conference games to share the early lead with Vero and Palm Beach.

Last Friday Vero Beach got both its touchdowns on long runs by halfback Tommy Wright, on 82-yard kickoff return and a 57-yard run from scrimmage. The week before, four of the Indian's five touchdowns came on plays inaugurated outside the 25-yard line.

Palm Beach beat Riviera on a 37-yard pass play, Steve Lindsey to Ron Massey. The Wildcatters have dangerous running threats in Massey, Buddy Vaughn and Garth Camp, all extremely fast, and the power thrusts of fullback Mike Ligenisky.

In other games last week, Forest Hill stopped Belle Glade twice inside its 25-yard line after scoring a second quarter touchdown on Ricky Rhodes' 17-yard pass to Brad Poffey to win 6-0; and Lake Worth, winning 21-12, scored the first three times it had the ball before McCarly stiffened its defenses too late in the second half.

In non-conference games, Stuart snapped an 18-game losing streak with a 13-10 victory over Okaloosa, and Clewiston stunned Seacrest also 13-0. Both Riviera Beach and Seacrest, which played a scoreless tie in the opener, have now failed to make a point in two games.

Wright's two touchdowns moved him into a share of the conference scoring lead with teammate John Langgitt, who had three against Belle Glade. Both boys have 18 points. Four others have 12 each — two touchdowns. They are Rhodes of Forest Hill, Massey of Palm Beach, chobee upon receiving Vigil Honor at the Fall Fellowship.

This is the highest honor the Order of the Arrow can bestow upon one of its members, and we are happy to have one of our chapter members to receive it. —By Glenn Wolf.

Our dance team placed 3rd in the group dance category. We have never won first in this one. Then, our singing team topped it all off with another first place. Membership ceremonies and a cracker-barrel ended a long hard day.

The business meeting of the Glades convened right after breakfast and church service. We elected new officers, presented awards and voted on lodge business affairs. Camp was evacuated soon after it adjourned at 10:30. A weary, but happy group returned to the Glades for another year.

We would like to congratulate Ben Dixon, Jr., of Okaloosa.

bered their opponents, but that was about all the advantage they had.

The local boys were outweighed by quite a margin and some of the Forest Hill boys looked like college men when it came to size. However, the Rams were not overly impressed with this difference and played their opponents on even terms.

The Rams held in the first quarter, but were unable to score themselves. In the second quarter Forest Hill drove over for a touchdown but failed to make the point after touchdown. The Rams came right back and were inside the five when the whistle ended the first half.

In the third and fourth quarter the local boys put on a real show and time and time again, drove deep into enemy territory, but some way or another Forest Hill managed to halt the drive.

The climax came late in the last quarter when the Rams had the ball on the one yard line. The stands went wild as three times the Rams tried to go over, but the Forest Hill team dug in and held and the game ended with a score of 6 to 0 in their favor.

Belle Glade can be proud of the fight put up by their boys and this is for sure, they are going to trounce a few of their opponents still to be played; we have a hunch this program will get under way this Friday when the Rams play Lake Worth, here.

See you at the game.

Fr. Lossing Attends Churches of Christ Bishops' Meet

Fr. Lossing of St. John's Episcopal Church here attended the annual Bishops' Clergy Conference at Camp Wingmann, Avon Park, last week, from Monday through Thursday.

The occasion saw the 250 priests of the Diocese of South Florida together with the Deans and the two assistant Bishops, and the Bishop of the Diocese, spending four days together in worship, study, and consideration of the furthering of the Church's mission in South Florida and the world.

The chief focus of the study portions was on pastoral counseling in crises of family and community. Noteworthy as a first was the presence of two guest speakers and a panel which reflected the ecumenical renewal interest of the church.

The chief speakers were the Reverend Father George Hagmiller, and the Reverend Samuel Banks. Father Hagmiller is a priest of the Roman Catholic Church, co-author of the best-selling book, "Counselling the Catholic," lecturer at several seminaries, and a member of the Paulist Fathers. Dr. Banks is an ordained Methodist minister and a resident physician and professor at the Medical Clinic and School at the University of Florida, Gainesville.

Churches of Christ Scientist

"Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee." This quotation from Isaiah (26:3) is the central theme of the Bible Lesson to be read at Christian Science churches, on Sunday. Also included will be this quotation from "Science and Health with the Keys to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Human sense may well marvel at discord, while, to a diviner sense, harmony is the real and discord the unreal" (p. 563). Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Unreality."

Community Methodist To Observe World-Wide Communion Oct. 4

"Because there is one Bread," which all churches, regardless of their normal schedule for serving the Sacrament, make an effort to observe Holy Communion. For this reason it is possible to imagine Christians of many races and cultures each coming in his own way to the Lord's Table to receive Communion as the turning earth advances the time zones.

For Methodists World-wide Communion has a double significance. Not only do we find in it the dimension of Christian unity but we find in it a way to share with persons having particular needs.

As Methodists come to the service of Communion on October 4 they will bring offerings for the Fellowship of Suffering and Service. Both tradition and the action of the General Conference provide for this kind of sharing with persons in special need. By means of the Fellowship of Suffering and Service, each church will go to the work of overseas relief. The other half is divided equally between two agencies serving men and women who are with the armed forces.

Community Methodist Church here in Belle Glade will observe World-Wide Communion at 11:00 A. M. worship service on Sunday, October 4.

Growing Together

"God's garden" . . . those were St. Paul's words to describe the early Christian fellowship. From its mighty seed of overgrown truth, the Church has grown and flourished . . . spreading into many lands, developing in many ways, but always linked by oneness in Christ.

World-wide Communion Sunday is a day of spiritual renewal for Christians of every creed. It is a time to remember our brothers in all lands, and to pray that our differences may be transcended by the power of the Holy Spirit working among us. It is a call to greater effort, greater personal participation, so that by our example all men may be led to know Jesus as their Saviour.

The Church needs the support of every Christian on this meaningful occasion. Decide now that you and your family will be present at the Lord's Table.

Today's Meditation

Read Matt. 11:25-30

The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Ye have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee. (Jeremiah 31:3).

A young man in his first job was sent by his firm to work in a town far away from home. He lived in comfortable lodgings, but every week his mother sent him a parcel of cakes.

When he went home for his first vacation, he said to "Mother, you should do it. You have enough on your hands with father and the rest of the family to look after. All this that you're doing for me is too much!"

"Too much?" his mother replied. "My son, think how much more I could do for you if you lived nearer to me!"

Do not these words carry to our hearts the plea of Christ Himself? Does He not say to everyone of us, "Child, how much more I could do for you if you lived nearer to Me?"

Christ calls us to dedicate ourselves to God, who loves us with an everlasting love. Stanley Leyland (England)

NEGRO GROUP BUILDS HOMES, BUSINESSES AND CHARACTER!

OCT. 1, 1964 THE HERALD, Belle Glade Florida Page 7

The Everglades Progressive Citizens received the first small loan charter and now operates the only one in Florida by negroes for negroes.

Sunday afternoon, the home of the EPC at the northwest corner of Fifth and Ave. C Place was dedicated in formal ceremonies with Representative Emmett Roberts introducing County Commissioner Lake Loyal as the Guest Speaker.

Commissioner Loyal told his audience: "It is a distinct pleasure to be here today. I know that the group represented here through their systematic savings, their progressive action in providing homes built by negroes for negroes, and the building of citizenship have been a balancing influence in the economic growth and the peaceful association of the Glades' citizens. I compliment you highly on your economic accomplishments."

"I commend to you" the Commissioner continued, "consideration of a home for the aged. Rest home, for your own. I am sure that the satisfaction of accomplishment of the old folks will carry along with it, an economic advantage to your treasury."

The home of Everglades Progressive Citizens built by negro artisans and labor is a two-story office building, with the first floor including offices of the Corporation, a Board room, an Assembly Hall for stockholders' meetings, and offices of

The two suites of upstairs offices are an appeal to professional men, the first of whom is Dr. George White, a Belle Glade citizen who has returned with a professional degree from Meharry University and internship.

Mayor LeBron Williams welcomed the group on behalf of the City, following the opening song of "How Firm A Foundation" and invocation by Pastor J. B. Adams.

Ten years ago thirteen young men mutually agreed to save systematically towards a common fund from which borrowings could be made at a rate of interest they thought was equitable.

As a starter, each put $20 in the pot with a pledge to add $10 minimum monthly and a capitalization of $20,000 was provided in the charter by the State. This authorized capitalization was increased to $75,000 and just recently an additional $75,000 capitalization was granted through the Securities Commission.

The practice of regular savings became a habit with the fathers and mothers, the query: "What about the children — can't we make them conscious of and become accustomed to regular savings?" Today there are 85 children, each with a miniature milk-bottle-bank furnished by the financial institution and monthly visits are made to the home office, where funds are counted. If one child member is absent a letter is sent inquiring as to why.

Reports show "over a hundred dollars" to $500 stock ownership by these children.

SEVENTH U. S. ARMY, GERMAN (AHTNC)—PFC Edward E. Grear, whose mother, Mrs. Evelyn C. Mitchell, lives at 10231 E. Canfield, Detroit, Mich. and other members of the Seventh U. S. Army, are participating in Exercise FALLEX 64, an eight-day NATO directed and controlled training exercise in Germany, ending Sept. 26.

The bi-annual exercise is designed to test and evaluate coordination procedures and command communications within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) military structure in Europe. Orders and communications between headquarters command posts and the dissemination of information to lower headquarters are being stressed to insure maximum proficiency during the training exercise.

The 20-year-old soldier, a message center specialist in Headquarters, 47th Ordnance Group near Stuttgart, entered the Army in March 1963. He completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., and was last assigned at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. A 1962 graduate of Eastern High School in Detroit (Mich.), he attended Detroit Business Institute.

Grear is the son of William A. Grear, Belle Glade, Fla.

Citizens, Inc., the corporate name, reports $800,000 in assets as of Sunday, September 27th.

Twenty-two homes are now occupied by owners and two are under construction, built by the EPC; twenty eight lots are on hand with each tagged as the homestead of other members.

Apartment houses, a filling station, a sandwich stand are rented to occupants and operators; a laundromat is owned and operated by the parent organization.

One group of rental property was purchased for $300,000 in May of '64, and includes seven stores, 97 rooms and 36 apartments — all for rental.

Nine of the original incorporators are still active, and 271 have joined the stockholders list in monthly investment (savings).

Carpenters, masons, painters, plumbers and other workmen have allowed a portion of their wages to be retained by the Corporation for the purpose of purchasing stock.

Originally, it was decided that no dividends would be paid for ten years, but the surplus justified the commencement of a dividend the fourth year and each year since.

Low Voltage Tools Can Be Dangerous

Florida workmen are playing Russian Roulette with electric hand tools, Ronald S. Spencer, Jr., State Industrial Commission chairman, declared today.

Spencer cited a sudden upsurge recently in the number of deaths in the State from defective portable electric power tools.

He said four Florida workmen were killed by low voltage electric shocks within a month. Two men were killed in a single day with that kind of tool.

Spencer, chairman of the Commission Advisory Council for the past three years, and former Ocala industrial executive, urged Florida craftsmen, semi-skilled workmen, and do-it-yourself enthusiasts, to exercise extreme care in the use of electrically powered hand tools.

"Using any of these tools when they have the slightest defect is taking a long long chance like playing Russian Roulette," Spencer said.

The full impact of the loss of a single workman on his family, community, and industry is immeasurable," Spencer said.

He stressed that the portable electric power tool regulations adopted by the Industrial Commission in 1958 are explicit in defining defective power tools.

The regulations require that the tools be adequate and safely wired, effectively grounded, and in first-class working condition.

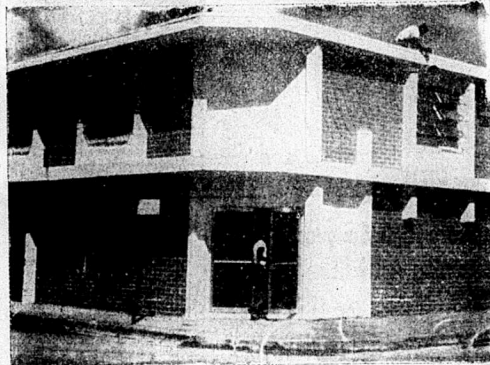

If any tool is lacking in these requirements a qualified tool maintenance man should be called to make repairs.

After the adoption of the portable electric tools regulations in 1958, Spencer said the trend of electrocutions from that cause was steadily downward from eight in 1958 to one in 1963.

SAFETY-3.

Then suddenly came the upsurge in low voltage electrocutions during the past month.

Rainy Weather Will Cause Molds And Mildew

Miss Mary Todd, Extension Home Economist, says molds causing mildew are always present and may grow on anything from which they can get enough food, moisture, and warmth. Avoid them by keeping things dry. This is especially important during damp weather.

Dry clean or launder clothing and clean and polish other items before storing them. Even during storage it is wise to frequently hang garments in the air and sun and brush them.

The following are suggestions on keeping things dry: Any condition of dampness will promote mold growth. Make every effort to eliminate as much moisture as possible. Provide adequate ventilation. Leave doors, drawers, etc., open occasionally. Keep a small light bulb continuously burning in the clothes closet. Use a heater if necessary to eliminate moisture.

Use a dehumidifier. Use a drying agent — silica gel and activated alumina will absorb moisture when properly used. Check the department or hardware store for specially packaged chemicals to eliminate dampness and retard mold growth.

Before shoes are put away, they should be cleaned thoroughly, dried, and polished with a good paste — even on the soles. The polish helps preserve them against mold. Store them on a rack off the floor which allows air to circulate.

To remove mold from leather goods, wipe with a cloth wrung from a solution of one cup of denatured alcohol to one cup of water. Dry. If mold remains, wash with thick suds of mild soap, containing a germicide. Wipe with a damp cloth and dry in an airy place. Polish with a good wax dressing.

Molds on clothing, less conspicuous, are nearly as prevalent as those on leather. Perspiration and food stains offer very fertile ground for mold growth. Clothing should be laundered or dry cleaned before storing, even if the clothing does not appear dirty but has been worn. Clothing currently in use but not worn every day should be thoroughly dried and the hangers placed with space between so closet air can circulate.

Remove mildew spots as soon as they are discovered. Brush off any surface growth outdoors to prevent scattering the mildew spores in the house. If fabric is washable, launder thoroughly, and bleach if necessary. If fabric is not washable, send to a reputable dry cleaner.

Certain types of furniture develop a musty odor, particularly in the rainy season. This is due for the most part to the growth of molds. In the case of sofas, overstuffed chairs, and even padded upholstered furniture, the molds may grow on the outside of the fabric. Perspiration, dribbled foods, and even hair oils may soak into the upholstery and support the growth of molds in a humid atmosphere. Moldy growth on the outside of furniture fabric may be sponged off, dried, treated with dry cleaning solution, and aired thoroughly.

If mold is growing deep in the padding, nothing will eliminate the mold or the odor except renovation by a trained upholsterer.

Some individuals suffer from allergies due to inhaling mold spores which result in attacks of hay fever or asthma whenever they use molded mattresses or upholstered furniture.

If the inside of a building is kept dry, there will be little trouble from mold. Certain molds will attack painted surfaces either inside or outside of buildings. These are cultivated by painting damp surfaces, which is a poor practice from other standpoints, too. Moldy paint should be scrubbed, thoroughly rinsed, and treated with some recommended disinfectant solution before new paint is applied.

Remember to make an effort to keep everything clean and dry. Dry soiled clothes and wet towels before putting them into the clothes hamper. Do not dampen more clothes than you will have time to iron. Shake out and dry those not ironed. If dampened clothes must be kept overnight, store them in the refrigerator in a plastic bag.

tain so it can thoroughly dry. For further information write for Home And Garden Bulletin No. 68 — "How to Prevent and Remove Mildew" — U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. Pete McIntyre Engaged With LSU Research To Perfect New Sugar Cane Harvester

P. M. McIntyre of Belle Glade is helping to coordinate Louisiana state University efforts to develop a much-needed sugar cane harvester which would remove both the troublesome leaves along the stalk and the green tops that are low in sucrose.

McIntyre is a member of the American Sugar Cane League committee which has aided in securing a grant of $75,000 to the research project at LSU from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Agriculture. McIntyre is agricultural manager of the Sugar Cane Growers Coop., of Florida, Inc.

The presence of leaves and tops in cane stalks headed for the factory has been a constant problem since the first machine harvester was built in 1915, reported Professor Harold T. Barr, head of the department of agricultural engineering at the University.

A variety of methods to eliminate the "trash" has been tried, none with a great deal of success. For instance, hard rubber rods or "fingers" were rotated and brushed against the side of the stalk to remove the leaves. The removal was not complete and the method was more trouble than it was worth, Prof. Barr explained.

Most growers are presently using the old method of piling the stalks between the rows and burning away the leaves. The method is not desirable, however, because of the carbon and other debris which must be removed in the crystallization of the sugar.

"The present method of topping the cane is also wasteful and inefficient," Prof. Barr said. The height at which the relatively thick cane tapers off to the thinner green tops is difficult in most of the stalks. A man on the harvesting machine judges the average height and adjusts a cutting device on the harvester accordingly.

Billy Cochran, a native of Columbia, Miss., has joined the LSU staff as a full time researcher. Cochran, who holds degrees from Mississippi State College and Texas A&M, worked for the last six years at Texas A&M on a project involving the mechanization of cotton harvesting.

Cochran has already begun the first step in the research — accumulating information on all methods of trash removal which have been tried. He will then begin developing experimental techniques and laboratory devices for testing these methods.

The USDA is also supporting research on the cutting and gathering of the stalk by experts in Florida. The LSU and the Florida research are being coordinated by a committee consisting of nine representatives of sugar cane growers and manufacturers and government agencies.

The nation's only two producers of sugar cane harvesters, located in Jeanette and in Thibodaux, have shown a good deal of interest in the project, Prof. Barr said.

Piranha Importation To Be Curbed By USDA Rep. Rogers Reports

Congressman Paul G. Rogers announced today on the floor of the House of Representatives that he has been informed by the Interior Department that new regulations will be issued shortly which will curb the uncontrolled sale of the South American Piranha fish.

Earlier in this session of Congress, Rogers had urged that such steps be taken. The vicious piranha has been appearing in increasing numbers in pet shops throughout the nation. In fact, in some cities, the novelty of owning one has become one of the current fads. These tiny fish are capable of devouring a man in three minutes and a steer in less than five. "This," said Rogers, "is ample reason to secure protection against any possibility of their becoming established in our waters."

Rogers pointed out that Florida is the only state which has

POST 20 LEGIONNAIRES ARE PROUD OF THEIR NEW HOME

Renovations Now Complete Legionnaires Hold Open House

This Saturday, October 3, Legionnaires to share Post 20's Everglades American Legion new facilities and invite the Post 20 will celebrate the opening of the completely renovated and modernized Post home at 101 S. E. Avenue D, Belle Glade.

The 40 x 80 CBS building was built some twelve years ago by the Legion who played landlords for Uncle Sam's postoffice at that location for about ten years. When postal activities had outgrown the space, the present new postoffice building was constructed just east of the Legion hall, on property purchased from the Belle Glade Post.

For the past two years the building was occupied by Gator Feels.

Rental of this property and the sale of the old adjacent Post home to Benny's Auto Parts some years back, left Belle Glade's Legion Post meeting in cramped quarters back of the center building. Financially the operation has paid off for Post 20, but membership dwindled and the need for a modern home was recognized.

The Legion could now renovate to come up with one of the finest homes in the state, all paid for, free and clear, and with funds left in the bank.

Ramrodding the construction were Commander Jack Rashley, who is also chairman of the 9th district Agricultural committee; Cecil Bair, first vice-president, and Junior Dean, second vice-president and chairman of the House Committee.

Jack Rashley was formerly Post commander for five years during 1952-3-4, and has served in that capacity again since 1962-63.

The exterior of the building has been newly painted in an attractive aqua color, and the Legion's new sign on the front proclaims the Post home in shadowed orange and white lettering.

The front half of the building, a 40 x 40 space, will be used for meetings and social events.

Flooring throughout the building is covered with soft beige vinyl tile and beige draw drapes at the windows throughout.

A 28 x 40 lounge in the rear of the building shares the space with an office and rest rooms. The lounge room is finished with cherry paneling. A semi-circular bar, finished with cherry formica, is outlined with padded perimolom plastic arm rest. A suspended ceiling using three dimensional 24" acoustic tile is accented with indirect lighting. The perimolom accent color is carried out in stool-tops and lounge furnishings. A wall-to-wall mirror and gay-colored wall lights help to make this one of the most attractive lounge rooms in the Glades.

Equipment includes a stainless steel sink and cold drink box and a modern ice-maker. There is ample storage room for supplies.

The entire structure is centrally air-conditioned.

"We now have a home we feel our Legion members will enjoy and be proud to frequent and bring their friends," Commander Rashley said. "We know there is a potential membership of 500 in the area, and we want to get every Legionnaire active again."

The officers are extending a special invitation to Pahokee

Legionnaires to share Post 20's American Legion new facilities and invite the South Bay Legion members to visit them as well.

They cited the many benefits to Legion members as a result of membership, summarizing it that "The Legion looks after a veteran's family as well as the welfare of all veterans."

Invitations have been mailed this week to all Legion members as well as district and state officers to attend the Open House celebration this Saturday, October 3, from 12 noon until 5 o'clock.

A celebration dance is being held Saturday night from 9 until 1 a. m. with music furnished by The Ax-C-Dents Band.

"We particularly invite Legionnaires from South Bay and Pahokee to join us on our open house celebration," Commander Rashley emphasized.

Boy Scout Troop To Be Reactivated

There will be an organizational meeting to reactivate Boy Scout Troop 222 tonight, Oct. 1, 8 p. m. at Jameson Hall, Community Methodist Church. All boys 11 or over who indicated an interest in the Scout survey recently conducted in the schools, and any of their friends, are invited to this meeting.

Parents should also attend to meet the men who will be working with their boys and to discuss with troop leaders plans for the new unit. Remember, SCOUTING CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE.

Seat Belts Save Lives!

Seat Belts Save Lives! A. M. Pettis, Extension safety leader, Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

Pettis points out that anyone who uses a seat belt is 8 to 10 times safer than someone without a seat belt. If everyone had seat belts — and used them — at least 5,000 lives could be saved each year. Serious injuries could be reduced by one-third.

If one is held inside the car by the seat belt, rather than being thrown out, his chances of survival are much higher.

A person is safest inside the car. The risk is five times greater for persons thrown out of the car. Many times the person lands on the pavement or sharp objects and there is danger of being run over by the automobile or other vehicles.

Any time the car is moving belts should be fastened. Two-thirds of the drivers in fatal accidents were less than 25 miles from home.

Pettis says that seat belts are needed on the back seat, as well as the front seat, and for every person in the car.

Buckling up for safety can save lives and cut down on automobile insurance.

Belle Glade's Round Table

I am sure you have heard of the "Round Table of King Arthur's Court" and how all the Knights would gather around to discuss this and that and make decisions on things to be done, then went out and made history.

Well, for your information, Belle Glade has a round table, and every morning from 9 to 10, different groups of local Knights' gather round and make up the problems of the day.

Now you may not believe it, but this round table is an important place. More problems are solved here — more bills are hatched and fall through than any place in town. While the table is important and will no doubt go down in history, it is the coffee that is served and drank at the Belle Glade Round Table that really makes history.

This coffee is something — it's different. A local real estate broker can take a stubborn client and set him at the round table, order a cup of that coffee and the poor fellow winds up buying thousands of acres of muck land and becomes filthy rich. Tired and worn out business men come in and partake of a few sips of "round table coffee" and leave with a glint in their eye that is wonderful to behold. Local, county and state politicians never fail to check in at the round table to learn their fate, far in advance of any poll that may be taken.

However it is only lately that the full power of the coffee served at the "Belle Glade Round Table" attracted National attention.

We can report, after careful checking all sources of information, that it is now definitely established that 2 cups of "Belle Glade Round Table Coffee" will make a regular registered Democratic voter become glibly eyed with regrets; he begins to dream of America as it use to be and he becomes a hot Gold-water fan and goes forth to preach in that candidate's behalf.

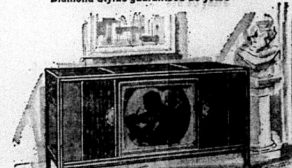

So — if you have a problem, money, property, or your neighbors dog — tie yourself to the "Belle Glade Round Table."

$7.2 Billion In Wages And Salaries

$11.9 Billion Total Florida Income

Wages and salaries, earned by Floridians last year amounted to $7,199,000,000, a 6 per cent gain over 1962 compared with a national increase of 5 per cent, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported in its Weekly Business Review released yesterday.

"The biggest payroll in the state last year was the combined public payroll which amounted to $1,635,000,000, up 10 per cent compared with a national increase of 7% The Florida total was made up of $876 million paid to state and local employees; $413 million to military personnel stationed in Florida; and $346 million to federal civilian employees.

"Payrolls of trade establishments (wholesale and retail together) ran a close second, totalling $1,631,000,000, up 5 per cent, slightly under the national gain. Florida manufacturing plants had a payroll of $1,108,000,000, up 5 per cent and contract construction firms paid out $570 million, a 7 per cent gain. Both of these gains bettered the national averages.

"Service establishments had a total payroll of $1,038,000,000 up 6 per cent, one point under the national gain. This category includes hotels and other accommodations, places of amusement and the like.

"Financial institutions, combined with insurance and real estate firms, had a payroll of $462 million, up 3 per cent. Communications and public utility firms paid $208 million to wage and salary workers last year, 7 per cent over 1962. Mines, farms and miscellaneous categories accounted for the balance of the wage-salary total.

"The $7 billion payroll in Florida last year accounted for 60 per cent of the total personal income received by Floridians from all sources. This total came to $11,933,000,000 and showed a rate of gain slightly less than the payroll in Florida and the nation as well.
